The Pennerian

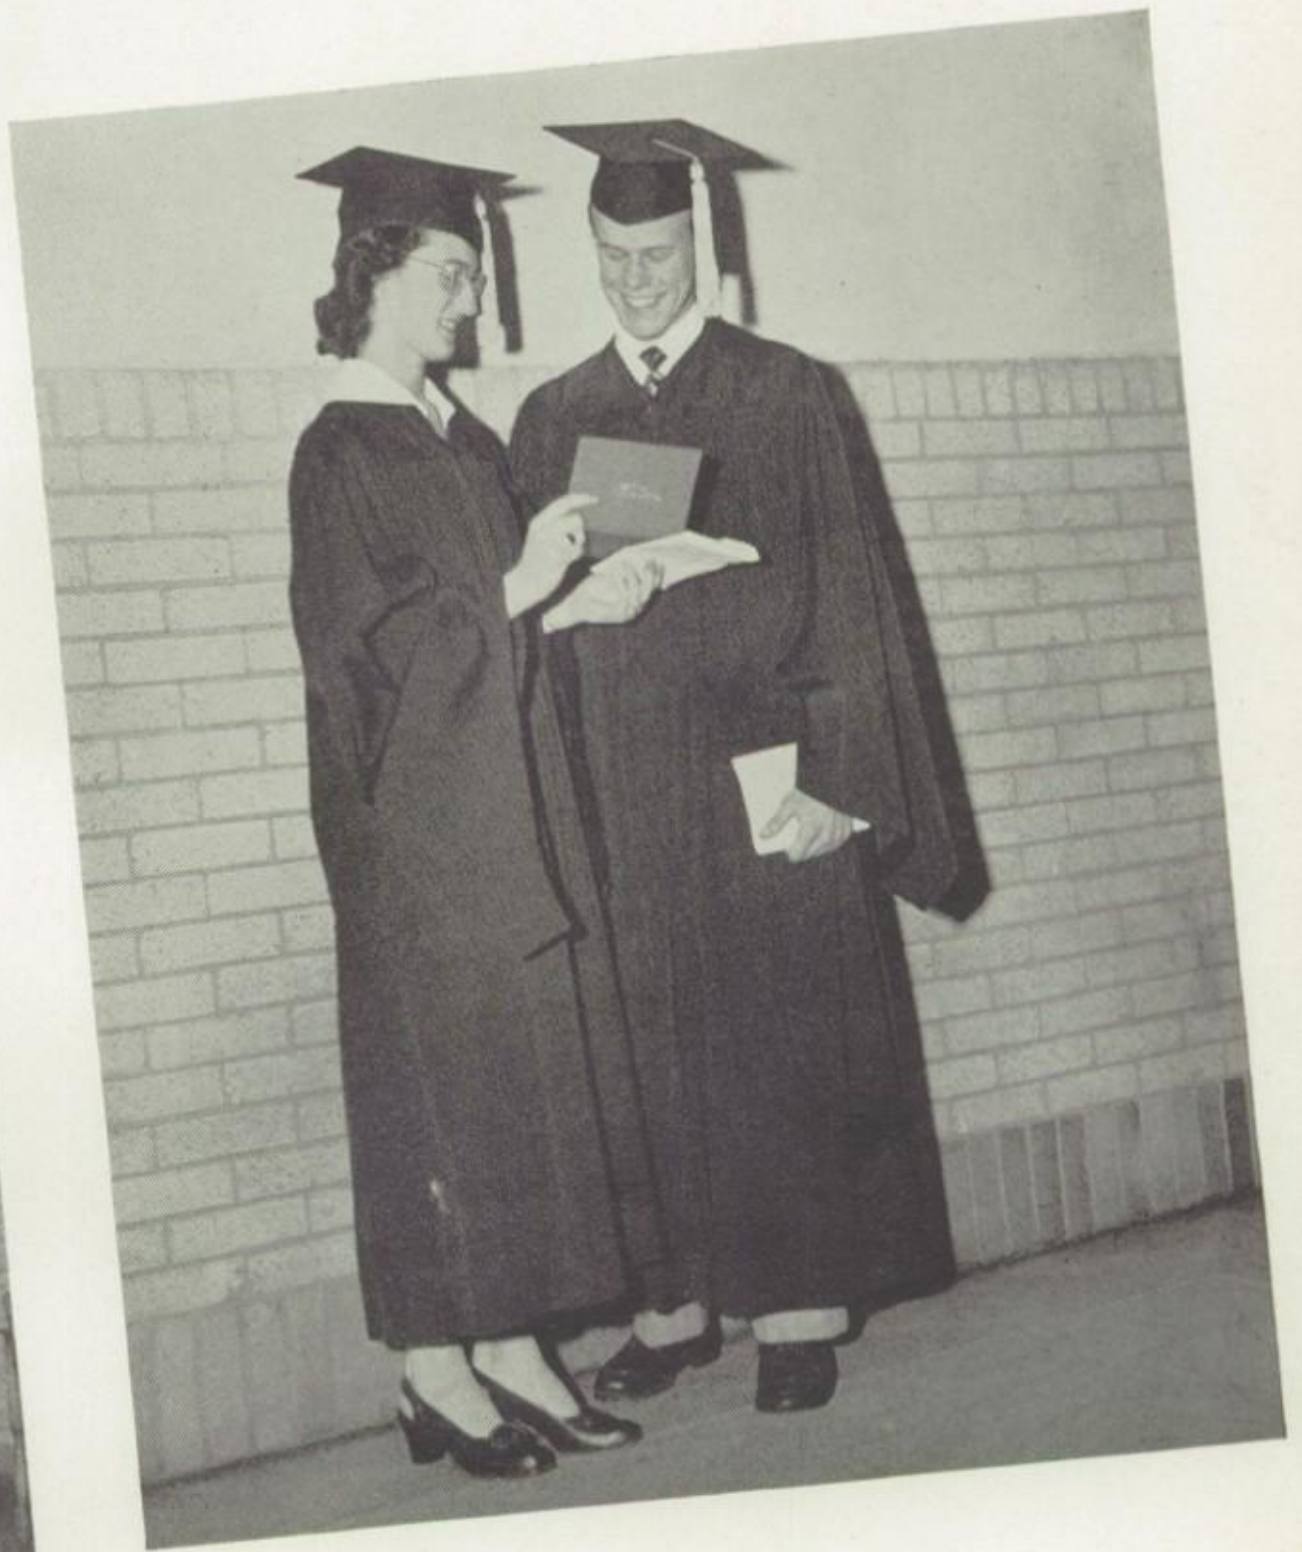

1951

*Annual Publication of The Senior Class
of
Penn High School
Greenville, Pennsylvania
Volume 31*

IN THE HOPE THAT THOSE WHO
FOLLOW AFTER US MAY BE SAVED
THE GRIM PROSPECT OF A WORLD
TORN BY WAR, WE RESPECTFULLY
DEDICATE THIS VOLUME TO MAN-
KIND'S ALMOST UNIVERSAL DESIRE FOR PEACE.

Represented in a diploma is not only classroom learning but also training through leadership, sports and activities. This variety in education has made our school days most enjoyable.

The Pennerian preserves for us in print and picture the memories of these wonderful days. Herein is our story—our friends, our fun, our accomplishments.

Symbolized in its Alma Mater, glorified by its history and traditions, exemplified through you and me—this is our school. More than just an instrument of education, it has been a central part of our lives making its influence felt in nearly every corner of our existence.

Alma Mater

U. of Illinois

Lyrics and Arr. by C. D. Kearns

The musical score is arranged in three systems. Each system consists of a vocal line on a single staff and a piano accompaniment on two staves (treble and bass clef). The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat), and the time signature is common time (C). The lyrics are written below the vocal line.

System 1:

Vocal: Hail to the Gold, Hail to the Blue, Hail Alma Mater

System 2:

Vocal: Ever so true. We love no other, So let our motto be

System 3:

Vocal: Loy - al - ty, Penn High School — Vic - tor - y!

Hail Alma Mater

Our Superintendent . . .

JOSEPH A. HARTMAN

B.S. in Commerce, Grove City College
M.A., University of Pittsburgh
Ph.D., University of Pittsburgh

Graduates of 1951:

My sincere and heartiest congratulations to you, the Class of 1951. It is a fine thing to have so successfully finished your high school course.

There is an absolute necessity in our world today for people who will assume responsibility for the welfare of the human race, everywhere, not just locally, not just nationally, but for the whole human race. There is an acute and immediate need for world citizens.

In your graduating class there are students of various talents. Each must take his or her respective station in life. You as individuals, are responsible for helping others to see that real greatness lies in placing a generous value upon any contribution made by another. A "Do-Democracy" in contrast to "Talk-Democracy" has only just begun to be tried. Although there are many discouragements to be faced in this new concept, it is encouraging to note that not only did the mobs follow dictators, but they also stood quietly by the Sea of Galilee and listened to the new concept of "love thy brother"—brotherhood, including all men. One may be a leader today and a follower tomorrow. The mature individual learns to respect wisdom wherever it is found and to recognize good leadership. May the future grant you opportunity and the fulfillment of your hopes and ambitions.

Sincerely yours,

JOSEPH A. HARTMAN
Superintendent of Schools

Administrative changes this past summer brought Dr. Hartman to Greenville. In him, our school district has found a capable superintendent, while we have found a wonderful friend, one always interested in us and our activities and never too busy for a conference.

. . . And Principal

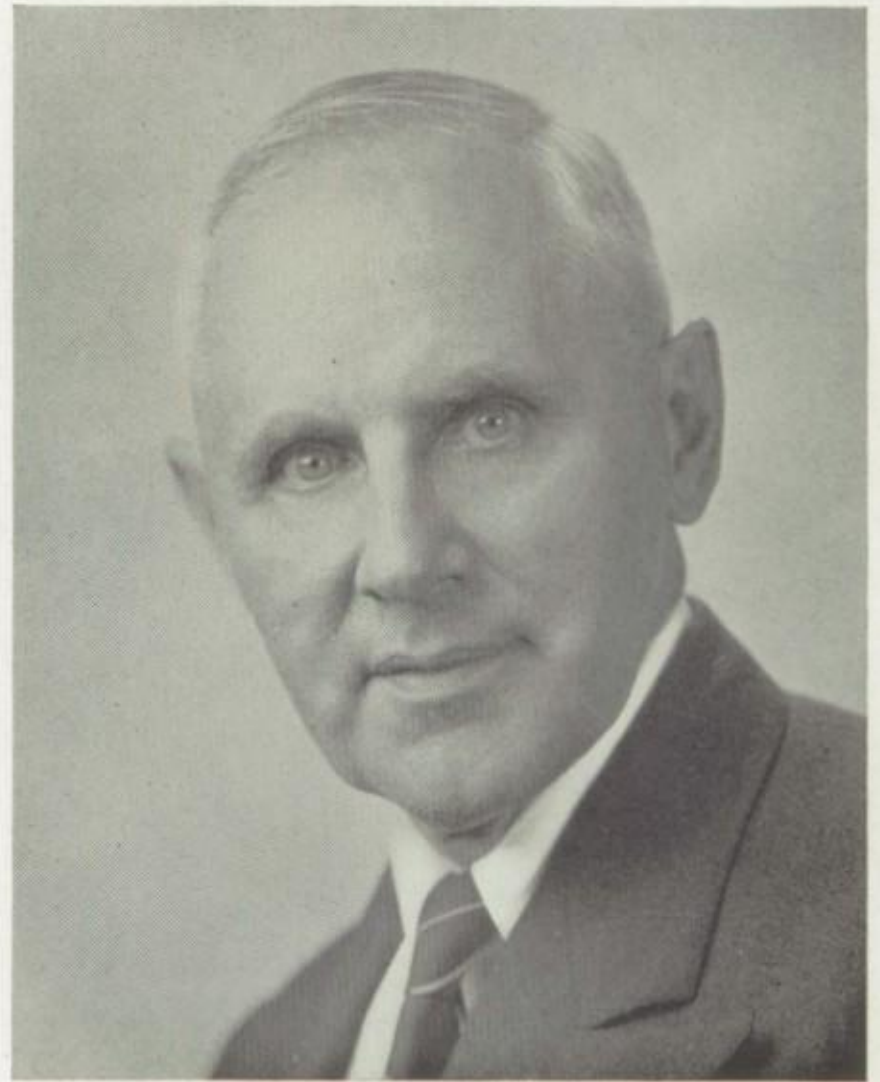

To the Class of 1951:

Another school year is rapidly drawing to a close as I sit here writing these few words to you.

This is the final year of high school for the some one hundred forty members of your class. We hope that it has been the best year. All four years have been crowded with action. The big question now is, "What next?" The whole world is in a chaotic condition. The Biblical passage, "Ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars," is true of our time. Bloody battles are being fought in Korea, and our country is feverishly arming for a greater conflict. The armed services are calling all of our boys and even some of our girls.

To whatever duty you are called, be it peace or war, go with a steadfast courage to do the right. Your Alma Mater will always be proud of you.

Sincerely yours,
ARTHUR R. STEWART
High School Principal

ARTHUR R. STEWART
B.S., Grove City College
M.A., Columbia University

During our years in Penn High, we have all become well acquainted with Mr. Stewart, both as guardian of The Law and as an understanding counselor. Virtually every phase of our school life has been controlled through his office. Just this year he has added another duty to his schedule—that of news commentator.

DEAN CROWTHER

A.B., Grove City College

M.Ed., University of Pittsburgh

Guidance is a big thing to seniors. With questions of college and career looming very large in our minds, we have found Mr. Crowther's advice and assistance most helpful. Through his many tests we have uncovered our proficiencies, while personal interviews have helped many of us to crystallize our ambitions and intentions.

Alice Wells and Janet Mohr, as well as several other commercial students, have assisted Mr. Crowther by typing reports and checking tests.

On the shelves of the library are a million facts, neatly cataloged and ready to help any student in almost any field. Every period of the day finds students coming to the library for reference material, recreational reading, or just to pass the time browsing in an educational atmosphere. We always find a competent librarian ready to lend assistance in unearthing any desired information.

Ever So True

Some really wonderful people—these seniors. Twelve years, more or less, we've been together. Time will alter our array of friends; we'll see new faces and meet new people. But wherever we go, whatever we do, there will always be reserved a large corner in our hearts for these, our classmates

To one of the nicest boys I have ever known I hope your life will be a success.

Saga of the Seniors

Once upon a time there lived in Greenville a group of industrious and enthusiastic young people. They loved life and were quite happy, but unfortunately they were frightfully ignorant. They knew not the glories of good literature; algebra and Latin were to them but remote and unknown bits of subject matter. But within them burned the desire for learning, and so, resolving to do something about the deplorable state of affairs, they met together and organized themselves into a group called freshmen.

As freshmen they studied hard, and soon were experts on many subjects. Some gained renown in mathematics, others were better in Latin and the sciences. Then, realizing that all work with no play would give them poorly-rounded personalities, they, not wanting to risk that, fluttered into the social world. They had a ninth grade party which featured a star-studded floor show. A good time was had by all, especially Miss Christy, who was presented with a gift of bubble gum by her thoughtful students.

Shortly thereafter, the freshmen decided that it was high time they were sophomores, and before long most of them did make this change. Whole new realms seemed to open up for the new sophomores. Some carried Penn High's athletic banners, others marched with the band. For still others there were the "Y" clubs, debate, and various other fields of activity. And in most cases there was enough time left to attend a few classes.

Now there were such gems as plane geometry and Latin II. Many found a pleasant and relaxing diversion in dissecting frogs and other choice cadavers, while a few hiked to the Washington School to get an orthographic look at things.

Socially the sophomores weren't dormant either. Their tenth grade party was a huge success, and increasing numbers of them were making their social debut elsewhere. With faltering steps they were invading the dance floors to practice for the prom, only a year and a half away.

When they became juniors, these one-time ignorant unfortunates were really on their way up. Their first big step was an election of officers which was carried on with a minimum of ballot-box stuffing. When at last the dust had settled on the field of battle, the victors were declared to be: Bob Canter, Ron Julian, Howard DuMars and Cyril Risavi. Under this capable leadership and with Miss Eleanor Schumann as adviser, the juniors set out to do great things. They ordered class rings and embarked on a Christmas card sale. The class rings were a glittering success, but the card sale wasn't, so the juniors tackled a second venture designed to bolster the sagging coffers. Meeting success with magazines, the Class of '51 was declared financially fit, and attention was turned elsewhere.

OUR JUNIOR PROM

Athletics, as always, held firmly its spot in the foreground. Junior athletes contributed much toward the success of the Trojan footballers who copped county honors, and the wrestlers who were awarded the district championship by virtue of their undefeated season.

With the coming of spring, there hatched in the junior midst a new egg out of which fell "China Boy." Superbly cast and remarkably well interpreted, the play provided an evening of fun for two well-filled houses. The plot concerned the misadventures of a model boy who was transplanted into the midst of an uproarious American family. The struggles of virtue against the environment provided for a spirited comedy with plenty of laughs for all.

The end of the year brought the prospects of a vacation along with a host of tests and a prom. The tests were fun, but even more enjoyable was the prom. After days and weeks spent in expectation and preparation, the big night finally arrived. Donning their best clothes and manners, the junior gallants steeled themselves for an evening of dancing and called for their girls. When the last notes had died away and the dancers had brushed off the stardust, all agreed that it had been fun.

Homecoming Queen,

be crowned.

Returning for their last fling with secondary education, the mob that now called themselves seniors set up shop in 308 and other long-hallowed and respected senior stomping grounds. Shortly thereafter, there was an election of officers, the results of which declared: Ronald Julian, President; Bill Floros, Vice President; Maxine Weaver, Secretary; and Mary Reigelman, Treasurer. Miss Schumann was again to be class adviser.

Next on the class agenda was a magazine sale. After a slow start, the senior salesmen came up fast to win, going away with a total of well over two thousand dollars. An outgrowth of this campaign was the Halloween party given for the girls who showed their superiority as salesmen in an intra-class contest. The fellows proved wonderful hosts, and the party was a long-to-be-remembered success complete with hula dancers and a gypsy fortune teller.

It wasn't long until the class Thespians were called upon to show their mettle once again. This time the play was called, "We Shook the Family Tree," and it was funny enough to keep audiences shaking through two performances. The story unfolded by the senior actors was of a very dramatic miss who feared that if she missed the prom she would be on a one-way street to spinsterhood. Salvation came, but unfortunately, it wore knickers, and this situation combined with beauty mud, love letters, and an ill-behaved bass provided a lot of fun for actors and audience alike.

Midterm brought cap and gown measurements, tests, and plans for the future. Many had college in mind, and most of the fellows were aware that military service was almost a certainty. But time marched on, and with it marched a band of young people coming very near to graduation. There were dances and parties and an operetta, and then finally the stage was set for the last act. Commencement, they called it, and as the name implies, it was a sort of beginning and a turning point. Ahead lay the future, big and uncertain. Behind there were the memories of friends and fun and fellowship.

"You Can't Take It With You"

Being of sound mind and body, of generous heart and willing nature, and being possessed of the realization that even the very finest must one day terminate, we accordingly do propose the subsequent redistribution of those quantities and proficiencies such as have contributed to our success as individuals and as a class.

1. Myron Bright leaves his expression, "I used to be conceited, but I'm not any more—I'm a swell guy now," to Ronnie Hyde.
2. To Jimmie Fasnacht, Russell Amalong bequeaths his nickname of "Mussells."
3. Super salesman Jim Vaughn will share his selling technique with Paul LeBarron.
4. Shirley Sproul wills the star on her dressing room door for Nancy Hoobler to keep shining.
5. Dave Williams bequeaths his spring boot bounce to Dick Ullery.
6. To Evelyn Cline goes Ruth Anne Cooper's smooth dancing.
7. Charles Brown's agreeable nature is inherited by Joe Lorenzo.
8. Margaret McGinnis bestows upon Annette Bolster her knack for never being caught speechless.
9. Moc Weaver donates his expert drawing technique to Dick Wheaton.
10. Betty Bankston leaves her worn-out operetta book to Jack Strausser.
11. Joe Allen decrees that Ab Gerdy shall be the lucky recipient of a herd of troublesome cows from the Allen Dairy Farm.
12. To Eleanor McGough goes Kathryn Lewis's supply of wisecracks for redistribution.
13. Floyd Ross transfers his affection for motorcycles to Jim Swartz.
14. Donna Barrows leaves her very sweet manner to Mag Poolos.
15. Joann Grate wills her convenient location, football-wise, to Carol Fisher.
16. Don Brath turns over his membership card in the L.T.V.'s to Pete Mortensen.
17. Carmela D'Urso is going to share her jolly laugh with Diane Whittenberger.
18. Joann Brakeman's violent dislike for homework is inherited by Ray Peterson.
19. Harold Gruver donates his daily bowl of Wheaties to Don McCright.
20. Nancy Ebbert is the fortunate recipient of June Stallsmith's favorite bottle of Hadacol.
21. Carol Fasnacht's world-famous swivel is entrusted to none other than Myrna Stoyer.
22. Bob Stoyer donates his priceless Oldsmobile to Gordon McClimans—maybe he can find a steep hill.
23. Nanci Heasley bequeaths her shy attractiveness to Shirley Iffert.
24. Carl Banic leaves his chemistry class manners for Jim Conn to try on.
25. Shirley Carter is the recipient of her sister Ruth's lovely alto voice.
26. Marilyn McGrath reluctantly passes on her high step to Lillian Frohlic.
27. Don Kather turns over a variety of odd jobs to Bill Mathis.
28. Millie Baker is going to leave her "hot orange" dress to Greta Fellnagle.
29. Gene Mink wills his fearsome reputation in the realms of rabbits to Albert Mowry.
30. Joan Anderberg's knack with the sewing machine goes to Georgine Alford.
31. David Black endows Norma Brown with the right to carry on the torch of colorful names.
32. To Freddy Keck, Patti Smith donates her party-throwing ability.
33. Alice Axtell's ten long fingernails are left to Pat Bubeck.
34. Roberta Roberts wills her neatness and stylish wardrobe to Susan Frampton.
35. Eleanor Hunt transfers a set of well-worn books to Tom Richards.
36. Jack Love is going to take over Don Foulk's job as "snöoperviser" in M.D. classes.
37. Red Weaver's ever-growing collection of inside-the-car trinkets goes to Harrison Smith.
38. That black curl of Tom McKenna's will be cut and left to Donnie Neiman.
39. Bill Johnston's undying love for peanuts is inherited by Beverly Krischbaum.
40. Janet Mohr's interest in older men is shared with Joan Proctor.
41. Kathie Gamble leaves to Jane Gibson her fame as hostess at wide-awake, all-night parties.
42. Don Roberts wills a few excess fraternal relatives to Audrey Holmes.
43. Evang Tirakis is passing on her much-used dumb look of innocence to JoAnn Delett.
44. Mary Margaret Moser's sporty looking black bathing suit goes to Judy Busch.
45. Peggy Splitstone uncovers her eyes long enough to say that Shirley Sherbondy can have her bangs.

46. Bettie McCormick leaves her dreamy eyes to Pat Freshwater.
47. Gloria Beckstine donates her interest in G.A.A. to her sister Sally.
48. Geraldine Sorrels wills her excellence in a variety of fields to Lois Mae Cooper.
49. Frieda Harnett bequeaths her dependability to Martha Romine.
50. Frank Clark leaves his after-school job to Ronald Christman.
51. The inseparable friendship of Barbara Mueller and Barbara Mitchell is passed on to Carole Shumaker and Carol Rowland.
52. Barbara McGrath's ardent love of drive-in theaters is inherited by Alice Cadman.
53. Dick Mowery doesn't hesitate a minute in leaving his struggle in algebra to Fred Jayne.
54. Don Guerrini wills his grace and ease of motion athletically to Jim Garts.
55. Leland Dick's love of the national pastime has been donated to Mark Hills.
56. Janet Chason leaves her roller skates for Bob Bowman to fall over.
57. Margaret Morford's fun in F.H.A. is inherited by Charlotte Smeltz.
58. Carter Brooks wills "exchamalagalocious", the one word of which he does not know the meaning, for Archie Wallace to define.
59. Ruth Webster's quiet, bashful ways are left to Betty Flinn.
60. Dick Shannon grudgingly relinquishes his knack for driving his car on both sides of the road at the same time to Betty Keck.
61. The dry humor of Marilyn Viets is passed along to Pat Billig.
62. Kay Don Dickson leaves his innocent smile following an uncanny deed to Gary Miller.
63. JoAnn Reinhart bequeaths her vivacious personality to Marcia Kameron.
64. Dale Conn wills his yellow suspenders to Tom Seiple, who may need them.
65. Doris Measel's love of the culinary art is left to Marguerite D'Urso.
66. Dick Montgomery bequeaths his tuba, along with all his hot air, to Bob Best.
67. David Chess leaves those beautiful brown eyes of his to Bonnie Schumann.
68. Lewie Mazzeo transfers his ten-day beard to Sam Aldenderfer.
69. Hartford Mowry donates his junior buddies to anyone who wants them.
70. Dick McCurdy passes on a few petite girl friends to Norman Uber.
71. Fred Hinkson's mad dash to get to school on time is left to Bart Bartholomew.
72. Joan Malson leaves her ambition to travel to Larry Shelkey.
73. Art Keisel's love for school is bequeathed to Jerry Hodge.

We're Off

The MOYER study the smarter you get, so stop, I VAUGHN to ask you something. How about getting out of the GRUVER and coming on a MINK HUNT? Since you are a PAL-O-VICH I am very fond, I know we CONN have a swell time. Every Tom, DICK, and DICK-SON will be there. See how many people have arrived. There are the WEAVERs, the LOCKE SMITH, a couple of SAYLORs, the BAKER, the COOKE, and some MOHR. Anyone who doesn't go is either dULL-ERY's lazy. If you WELLS go, you may ride either the BROWN horse or one of the SORRELS.

Let's shove off! We'll go FIRST because everyone will be CHASON us. We mount our horses and set out over HEDGLINs and BROOKS. After jumping two GHIATES, we follow some TIRAKIS through the GUERRINI forest. All the FOULKs come on a GAMBLE, but everyone hopes to see a MINK. Those KISER taking the south PFAFF RATHER than the NORTH one. McGINNIS sakes, I SMELTZ a MINK! PEARCE it with a bullet. Oh, it bounced off the STOCK of that tree and SPLITSTONE! Poor STONE! Try again! You hit the MINK! WELDON, my friend! Now that we have caught the MINK, this has turned into GRATE fun. The DAVIS BRIGHT, but CLOUDs began to form, and the sky got BLACK. We thought it was going to REIN-HART so we let our horses CANTER.

Then a HARNETT stung me! ALL-EN all, I got in a BANIC, and fell from my horse, knocking over an artist's KEISEL. There I was, SPROULEd on the grass, and someone was saying, "Stand back, you're cREESEing her jacket. Don't COOPER up but CARTER over here in one of these wheel-BARROWS." The BORTZ on the FLOROS were hard, and a few were LEWIS. I had a difficult time catching my BRATH because my CHESSt hurt. My head thROBBed and I kept thinking I heard a herdy-GERDY. It can HEAS-LEY be said that my mind was a HODGE-podge, but I was KUSICK to care. Now I have reCOOPERated, but I still AMALONG way from home, so if you aren't cROSS, STOYER coats here, and I'll treat you all to a NEUBAUER of candy.

Inventors and Inventions

Barbara Mitchell—A study hall clock with half a bell to wake up only students who aren't sleeping.

Joan Malson—Eye glasses without glass so that when they fall they won't get broken.

Margaret Morford—Pencils without lead for people who like a pen.

Nina Porterfield—A megaphone that muffles sound, used to tell teachers off.

Bob Canter—A car with no wheels to foil auto thieves.

Sig Brath—A hat with no top for an open-minded person.

Jim Lambert—A shower with dry water for people on Mr. Berry's stink list.

Delores Chess—Text books without pages for people who don't like to study.

Te-dum, Te-dum, Te-dum

When driving a car one fine day,
Susie Johnson was happy and gay,
But at one foolish speed
She hit a fine steed—
The daisies come up every May!

Moe Weaver, the man with one aim,
As an artist has risen to fame.
All day he will draw;
It becomes the last straw
When they say that his pictures are tame.

There was a young lady named Doris,
Whose ice cream concoctions would floor us,
But once on a dare
She gave us a scare
When she poisoned a fellow named Norris.

Miss Moser, the one we call Moe,
As she glides o'er the ice we may know
She can do a spread eagle
And all that is legal
Till she's scraped off the pond with a hoe.

Carmela, the kid with the laugh,
Almost cut her finger in half;
So with needle and thread
She sewed it and said:
"It's a good thing it wasn't my calf."

Two editors, Mary and Max
Had to get down to brass tax,
So with pencil and pen
They sat down and then
Proceeded to sharpen the axe.

Tips on Etiquette

Mary Ann Nelson insists that hot soup should be gargled in the back of the throat. No attempt should be made to hide it in your napkin.

Suzy Neiman states, should you, while carving steak, accidentally skid it into your lap, smile broadly and say, "Think the rain will hurt the rhubarb?"

Dick Shannon admits that spaghetti poses quite a problem, but for a minimum of difficulty, buy yours at the A. & P.

Dora Mae Mowry states that it's quite all right to crack your gum if you do it in definite rhythm.

Myron Bright says that when calling for your prom date, summon her with the horn. The energy thus saved will make you a better dancer.

Dave Williams insists that it is altogether proper for a fellow to walk on the inside. Should a building explode, he would be right there to shield his fair lady.

Hart Mowry says, always rough up the teachers in the halls. It makes them feel they belong.

Barbara Mueller says, should you encounter a new pair of saddle shoes, walk all over them. It will keep the owner from feeling conspicuous.

1. Don. 2. Sitting pretty. 3. No pants. 4. Snowplow. 5. Modest. 6. Putting on the war paint. 7. Taking it easy. 8. It looks just as bad upside-down.

1. Contemplation. 2. Hi! 3. Laugh, I thought I'd die! 4. Two's company. 5. Mona Lisa. 6. The pause that refreshes. 7. Banic the great. 8. Aren't we sweet? 9. Barefoot boy with cheek of tan. 10. The bitter truth.

Who Put the Sleeping Pills in the Opium

"Ho-hum, I must have fallen asleep. My watch—it's stopped. I'll be late for dinner again." Awakening from my cat nap, I started for home. Someone, slightly resembling Dick Shannon, charged past in a hideous colored auto. It made my hair, which I had not formerly noticed to be five feet four and three quarters inches long, stand on end. This was a car? I began to wonder. Down the road a tall, handsome man caught my eye. Sauntering up, I found him to be George Santuomo, now a prosperous meat packing tycoon. The realization of my wondering came forth. I had slept forty years! What a surprise! George being the perfect host, offered to show me the sights of 1991. The first thing to catch my eye was the huge neon sign advertising the products of the DuMars and Detelich Pickle Factory—"Makers of fine pickles for every occasion." Across the street, the McAdoo Theater was featuring Bert Heisser and his band, plus the glamorous actress, Maxine Weaver, co-starring with the great lover, Lewie Mazzeo, in Howard Melvin's latest production, "The Ron Julian Story."

Being a good citizen, I felt it my duty to notify my draft board that I was still around. Walking into the office, I was greeted by General Don Kather and Admiral Ron Clark. After a discussion of politics, I found that Senator Cyril Risavi had had a spat with the President's wife, formerly Roberta Roberts, and Governor George Ebbert, now in Harrisburg, was straightening out the whole affair. Then I ambled out to further my knowledge of 1991. Looking through the window of McCurdy's Department Store, I saw a technicolor TV set. "Say, that face is Dick Mowery's. He's MC of the show." Betty Bankston and Maxine Harpst sang a duet after which the graceful ballerina, Marilyn McGrath, performed. Next was a comedy act by the nation's top comedian, Dale Kather. Don Axtell, a news commentator, interrupted the show to relate that Doris Coda, the local fire chief, had just saved Althea Stewart, principal of the Lambert and Leffler Consolidated School. The chief had jumped onto the roof from Bill Webster's helicopter, and after rescuing Miss Stewart, leaped from the four hundred and second story into the waiting arms of Floyd Ross.

After forty years my stomach was complaining from the lack of attention. Entering Peterson's Plushy Pie Palace, I recognized still another classmate of mine, Mary Reigelman. She was coaching the first women's football team, and to my surprise, four of my old friends, Ruth Webster, Alice Axtell, Bettie McCormick, and Joan Anderberg, were star players. Just then a cute little waitress, June Stallsmith, came to take my order. She told me that Joan Bollenbacher, the famous lecturer, was giving a speech that evening in Montgomery Square. Afterwards, there was to be a concert featuring Barbara McGrath at the piano and Cornelia Marini with her magic harp, playing the music of the renowned composer, Frank Clark. After finishing my meal, which I was told had been prepared by Pauline Ramsey, internationally famous for her fine recipes, I left the Pie Palace. On my way out, Virginia Campbell and Vivian Mowry, models for the Hinkson Model Agency, greeted me with big smiles.

Down the street, a rocket ship, piloted by Bill Johnston, and carrying Joan Smargiasso, Gloria Beckstine, Tom McKenna, and Marilyn Viets, was ready to take off for Mars. Twenty years ago, the brave explorers, Merle McClimans and Donnie Roberts, had first invaded this planet. Of course, these trips wouldn't be possible without the Charles Williams' Service Station, located on the western side of the moon. It seems he had become a billionaire by cornering the moonshine market. You know, I've always wanted to go to the moon! So long, folks!

THE Y'S

Our "Y" clubs are organizations formed "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character." A major project of these clubs each year is the sponsoring of "Teen Talks," which are open to all students from ninth grade up.

Throughout the year, the Hi-Y had a variety of programs, among them some interesting and educational speakers. They continued the practice of showing the popular noon movies, sponsored the Spring Formal, and entertained their fathers at the annual Father and Son Banquet.

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y has been very active. Among their most popular meetings were those devoted to the discussion of dating. Their projects included packing baskets for the needy at Thanksgiving and sponsoring the Christmas Ball. They also had a Heart Sister Week and honored their mothers at a tea in the spring.

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y sponsored a bake sale and a highly successful St. Patrick's Day Dance. They also took up the job the Senior Tri-Hi-Y had started by sending baskets at Christmastime to the poor.

The Sophomore Tri-Hi-Y had an interesting program this year. They had a Heart Sister Week, which culminated in a well-attended tea at which all the girls were presented with roses. A play, "The Letter," and an interesting talk on the origin of Christmas Carols were among the other programs of the group.

Among the honors which were bestowed upon members of the high school's "Y" groups was the election of Bob Canter as president of the District "Y" Council. This council met in Jamestown last fall and discussed plans for "Y" activities for the year. Another person to do Penn High credit was Tom Richards who was chosen chaplain of the State Y.M.C.A. convention held in Harrisburg. Representatives from the Tri-Hi-Y groups went to Meadville to attend the District Convention. Doris Coda, Nancy Dilley, and Pat Huntley were chosen to attend the State Convention held in Harrisburg. There Doris Coda, who had been elected president at the district meeting, presided over the Conference.

An interest in higher mathematics combined with two and one-half years of math with no grade lower than C are the requirements for admission. The club holds two initiations each year and ends its activities with a picnic sponsored by the junior members.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club is an old organization with a new name, the change being due to the dropping of French from the curriculum. The membership is made up of students who have completed at least one semester of Spanish with an average of C or above. The club sponsored the Christmas Ball and enjoyed a variety of interesting and informative programs. Two informal initiations are held each year.

BUSINESS CLUB

The twenty-seven second-year secretarial students constitute the membership of the Business Club, which was organized to establish a better knowledge of the present-day business world. In addition to numerous social activities, the Business Club observed Thiel College's secretarial course and made a trip to Mercer where they saw the County Court in session.

There's Music in the Air . . .

Music in Penn High School is not only a major activity but also a recognized part of the curriculum. Through our many musical organizations, we have received not only training in music but also an opportunity to make friends and work together.

Our band is a proud representative of Penn High, and our concert choir takes a back seat to none. We have an orchestra, a swing band, a boys' chorus, and a girls' ensemble, all fine musical groups which add enjoyment and color to many phases of school and community life.

And now, in behalf of all these organizations, Mr. Ronald Teare, supervisor of music, takes his bow.

ORCHESTRA

"To furnish experience and training in playing music of a lighter symphonic nature" is the main objective of the orchestra. They accompanied the operetta "A Waltz Dream" and enlivened the junior and senior class plays by playing between acts. Five members attended the District Orchestra Festival at Karns City. Senior vesper service and commencement are the last two appearances of the orchestra each year.

BAND

This high-stepping organization, patterned after the Pitt Band, has won acclaim for its unusual playing ability and formations. Even summer vacations do not stop the band. They played for fairs, marched in parades, attended conventions, and in band competitions, won first prize eleven times. When fall arrived, the band merely changed pace and rocketed out onto the football field. They provided half-time shows for all of our football games and were rewarded by a trip to Pittsburgh to see the Pitt-Miami football game. The band's spring concert presented a varied program of classical, semi-popular, and traditional march music.

SWING BAND

Interest in popular music and the ability to play with a degree of proficiency qualify a student to become a member of this organization. This spring, the Swing Band played for the Sweetheart Swing, the Hi-Y Spring Formal, and a Thiel College dance. Activities are customarily concluded with a trip to a Cleveland baseball game in the spring.

"A Waltz Dream" . . .

By far the most ambitious musical production undertaken in Penn High for many years was the operetta, "A Waltz Dream." The cast of nearly ninety, chosen in large part from the ranks of the A Cappella Choir, presented a matinee and two evening performances.

The setting for the operetta was the mythical kingdom of Sylvania. Conditions were bad—the country was bankrupt, the people were restless, and the princess was in love with an exile. However, with the acquisition of an Austrian lieutenant for prince regent, there came a promise of better times. The lieutenant, unfortunately, had other ideas. In his unauthorized social escapades outside of the palace, he fell in love with an American cafe singer. His unfaithfulness was discovered by the royal family, who reprimanded him for his shameful behavior and commanded him to go through with the wedding.

Secretly, sinister plans to rid the country of the roistering bridegroom were laid by a former suitor of the princess. The lieutenant, along with the princess's exiled lover, who had returned during the excitement, were smuggled out of the country. They managed to overcome their kidnappers and return to the palace.

The exile quickly regained the king's favor when he disclosed that he had arranged for a Sylvania loan in England. He won the princess's hand in marriage, and the dynasty was preserved. The gay lieutenant, no longer held to his pledge, made amends to his true love, and the operetta ended on a happy note with the prospect of two weddings.

As fall rolled around, the call went out for football candidates. On August 17, after physicals and issuing of equipment, the pre-season training started. For two weeks before school opened, the candidates practiced twice a day, five days a week. The Trojans polished off their training with a practice under the lights the evening before the first game.

MERCER 0

On September 8 the Trojans traveled to Mercer to play their first Class A game. They made an impressive opening-night showing. A 94-yard punt return behind deadly blocking, a 79-yard sustained drive in the second quarter, and a 25-yard run after a pass interception helped account for the twenty-seven points.

PENN HIGH 12

HICKORY 13

With one win under their belts, the Trojans went to Sharon Stadium to play the Hickory Hornets. Greenville took a six-point lead in the first quarter after a 42-yard run, but the Hornets came back to tie it up in the second. Hickory started off the second half with a T.D. and the game-winning extra point. The Blue and Gold made a comeback in the fourth quarter and scored on an aerial but failed to obtain the tying marker. The Hornets blocked all further attempts by the Trojans to score, and the game ended with Greenville on the losing end.

PENN HIGH 12

OIL CITY 0

The Trojans' first game of the season on Stewart Field was with the Oil City Oilers. The new score board, dedicated to the "Youth of Greenville," was used for the first time during this game. The first score recorded on this board was for the Trojans, after a 50-yard touchdown march. A second touchdown came in the third quarter when we blocked a punt, picked it up, and ran 49 yards for the tally.

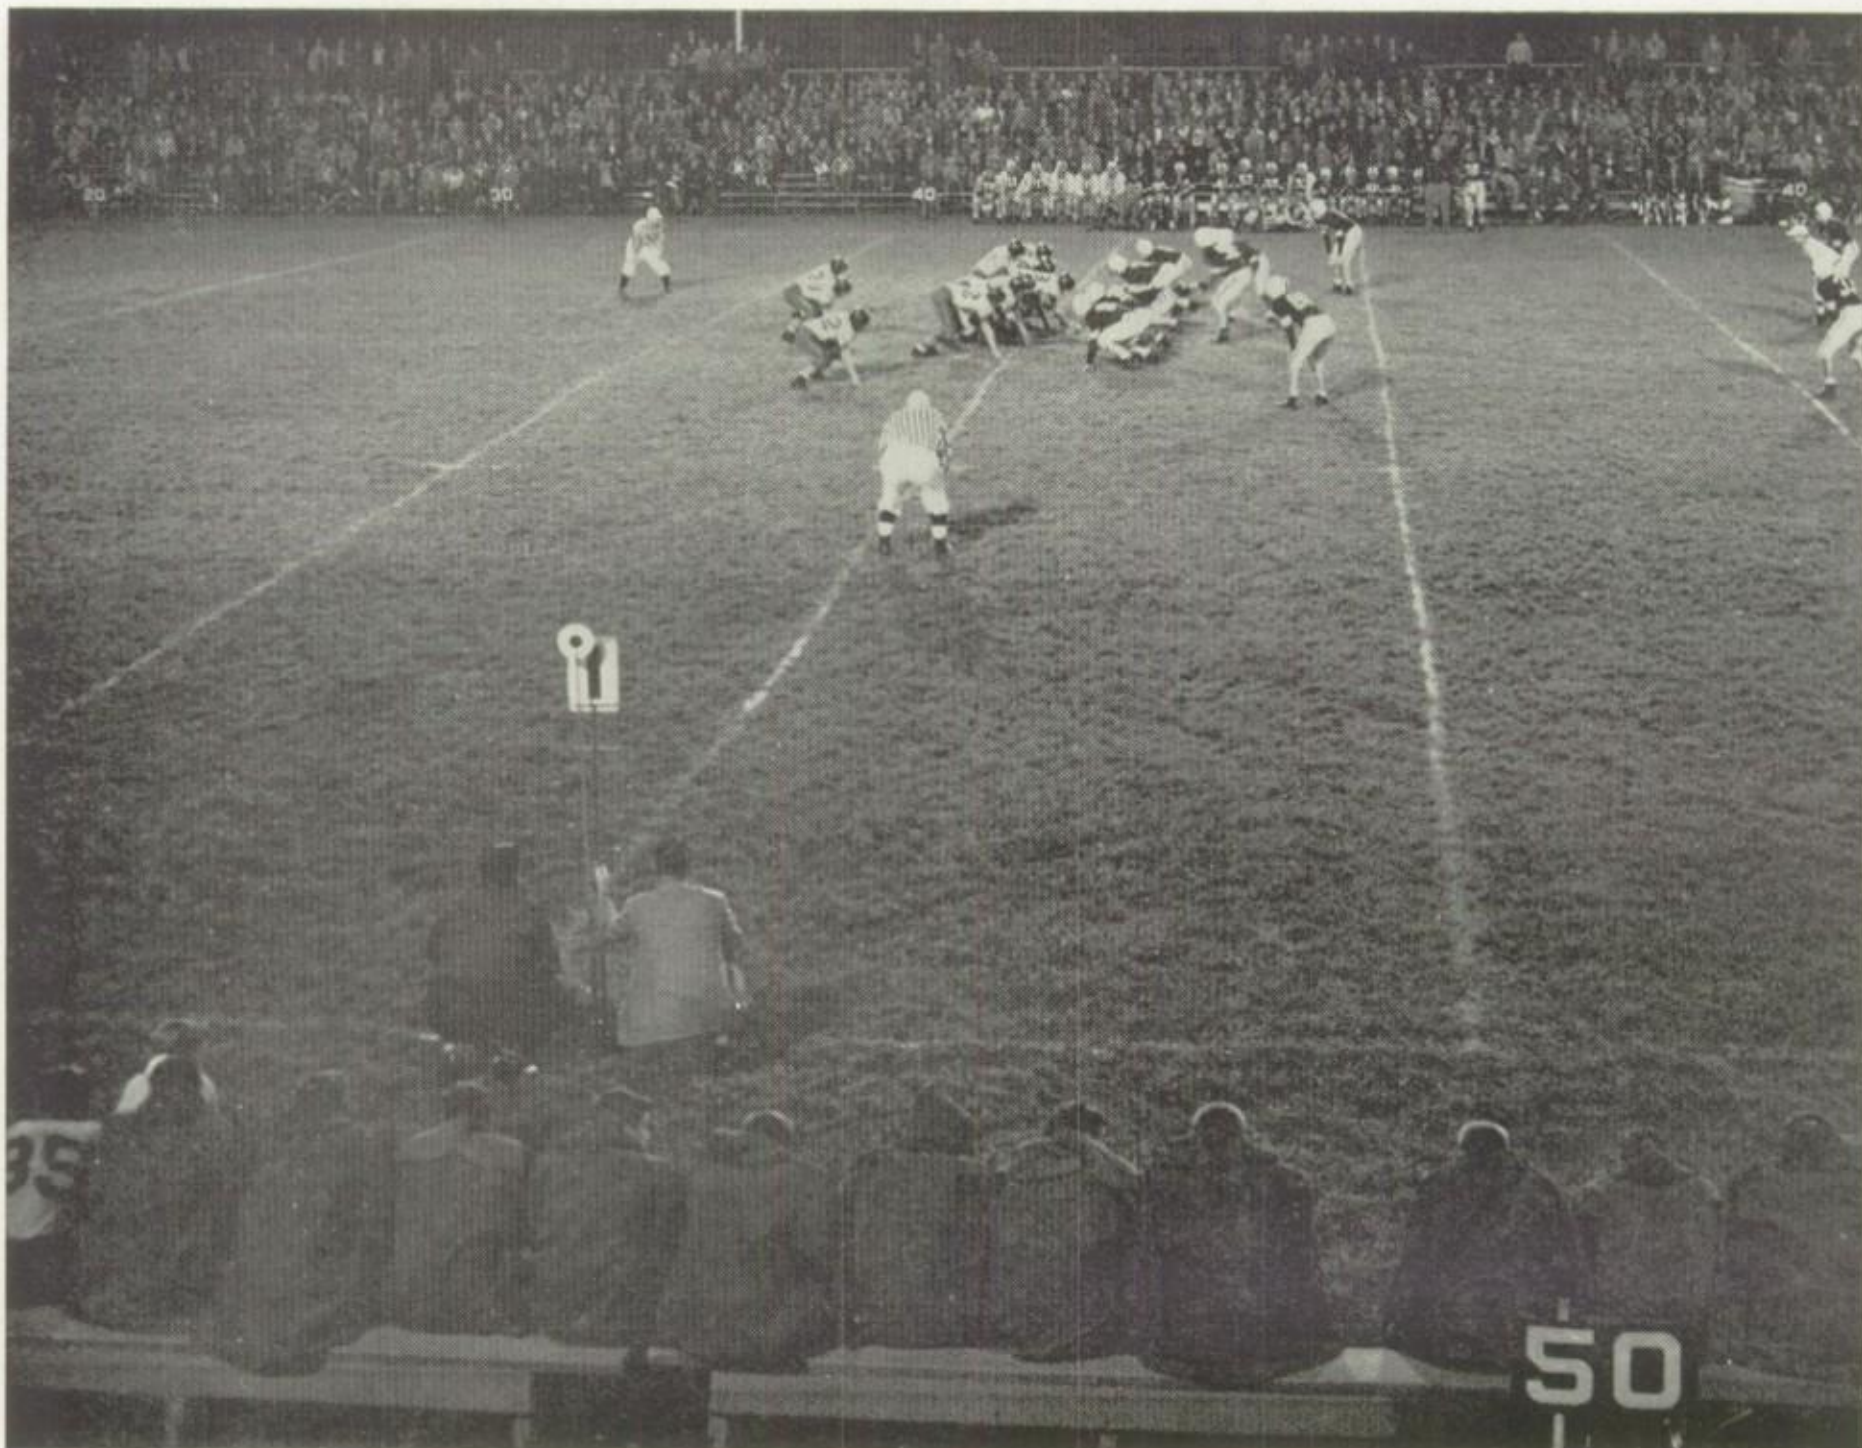

PENN HIGH 6

TITUSVILLE 6

The Trojans and the undefeated Titusville Rockets battled to a tie in a hard-fought game at Stewart Field. Greenville scored first on a seven-yard naked reverse but missed the vital extra point. In the second quarter, the Trojans missed a golden opportunity when they drove to the four-yard line, but the drive stalled when the Rockets intercepted a Greenville pass. Coming back in the third quarter, Titusville scored, but their try for the extra point was blocked. In the final quarter, neither team could capitalize on any breaks, and the game ended—a stalemate.

FRANKLIN 6

The annual Homecoming game was with Franklin, and in keeping with the occasion the Trojans ran up their biggest score of the season. The score was 13-6 until the final quarter when the touchdown-spirited Trojans scored 18 points. With five and one-half minutes remaining, the Blue and Gold went wild, and Franklin could not halt their furious barrage of points. They scored first on a 50-yard march, then blocked a punt on the five and scored on a quarterback sneak. For the final tally they intercepted a pass on the 20 and passed for the T.D.

PENN HIGH 26

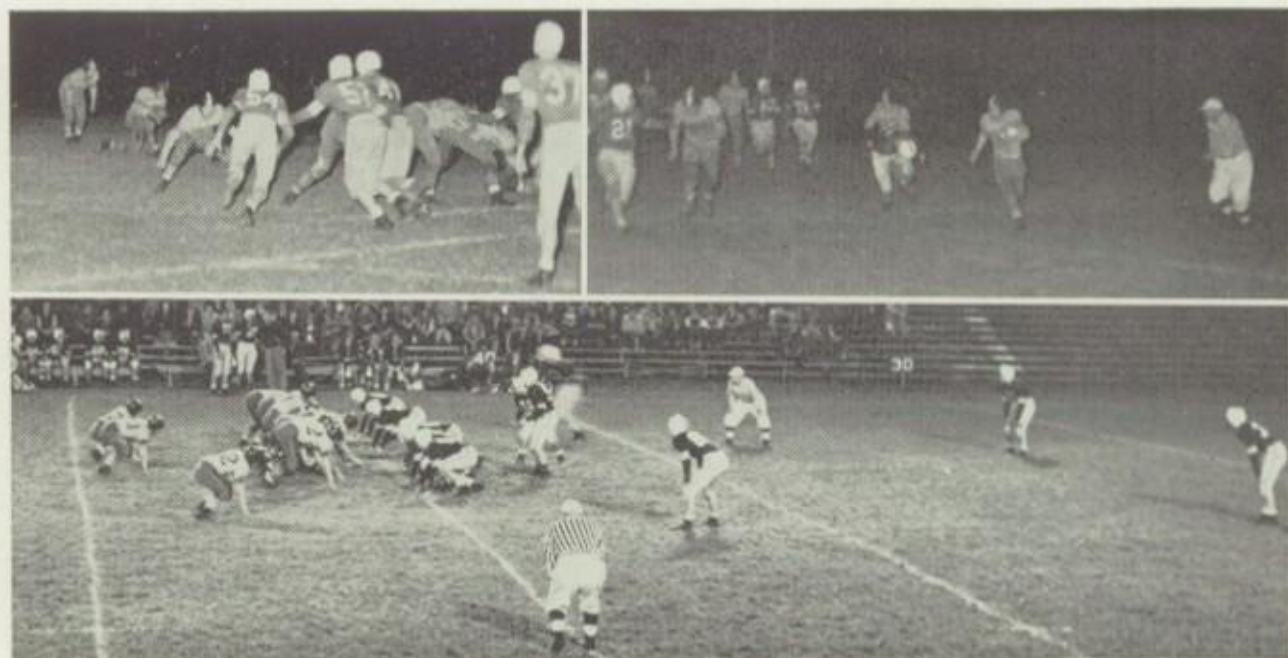

MILLCREEK 0

Friday the thirteenth did not hex the Trojans as they played Millcreek at Stewart Field. They scored three times in the first half on a 60-yard punt return and on 70 and 80-yard sustained drives. In the second half they scored the fourth and final tally on a naked reverse from the 14-yard line.

PENN HIGH 7

GROVE CITY 13

Our traditional rivals, the Grove City Eagles, handed the Trojans their second defeat of the season. The Trojans scored first in the second quarter on a 21-yard touchdown pass. Grove City then scored but missed tying the game when the extra point was blocked. In the second half the Eagles drove and passed over the game-winning touchdown.

The boys in action.

WARREN 0

With their win over Warren, the Trojans completed their third straight undefeated season on Stewart Field. The Trojans now have a record of 13 wins against one stalemate since Stewart Field was completed in 1948. Two of the touchdowns against Warren were scored in the four minutes before the half. One was driven over, and the other was scored on a 17-yard aerial. The third and final score was in the fourth quarter after a 55-yard sustained drive.

PENN HIGH 13

SHARPSVILLE 7

For their last game of the season, the Blue and Gold traveled to Sharpsville. In the first quarter, neither team could score, but in the second, the Blue Devils pushed across after an 86-yard sustained drive. With less than four minutes left in the initial half, the Trojans recovered a fumble on Sharpsville's 36, and in six plays they drove to the two-yard line where the half ended. In the second half, the Trojans took up where they left off by scoring a T.D. after a 54-yard drive. For the final tally of the year, the Trojans scored on a punt return behind beautiful, deadly blocking.

The Penn High Trojans finished off the season with a record of six wins, one tie, and two defeats. When the All-Northwestern State team was selected, Tackle Ronald Hyde was very deservedly honored with a first string berth, and Halfback Myron Bright was chosen for a second string post.

Basketball Review

For their first game of the season the Penn High Trojans traveled to Meadville where they were nosed out of a victory after a tough fight. Meadville jumped into a six-point lead in the first period, but the Trojans came back to tie it at 35-all by the end of the third. In the fourth quarter, after a hard fought battle, the Bulldogs went ahead to win, making five points in the final ninety seconds. The Blue and Gold dropped their second encounter to New Wilmington, although outscoring them in the last half. The Greyhounds acquired a nine-point lead in the first quarter, but the scoring was even in the second with both teams racking up eight points. The Trojans led in scoring in the third and fourth but could not overcome the Greyhounds' first period lead.

In their first home contest, the Men of Troy came from behind to beat Rocky Grove 39-30. After leading 12 to 11, 17 to 14, and 24 to 23 in the first three quarters, the Trojans fell behind in the fourth. They got right back in the ball game though, breaking a 26-all tie and forging ahead to win.

The Titusville Rockets handed the Trojans their third defeat of the season in a close game at Titusville. The Trojans led for three quarters, but the Rockets tied it up at 39-all at the end of the fourth to send the game into a thrilling overtime period. However, the Greenville cagers could not keep up the pace, and the Rockets won the game by three points.

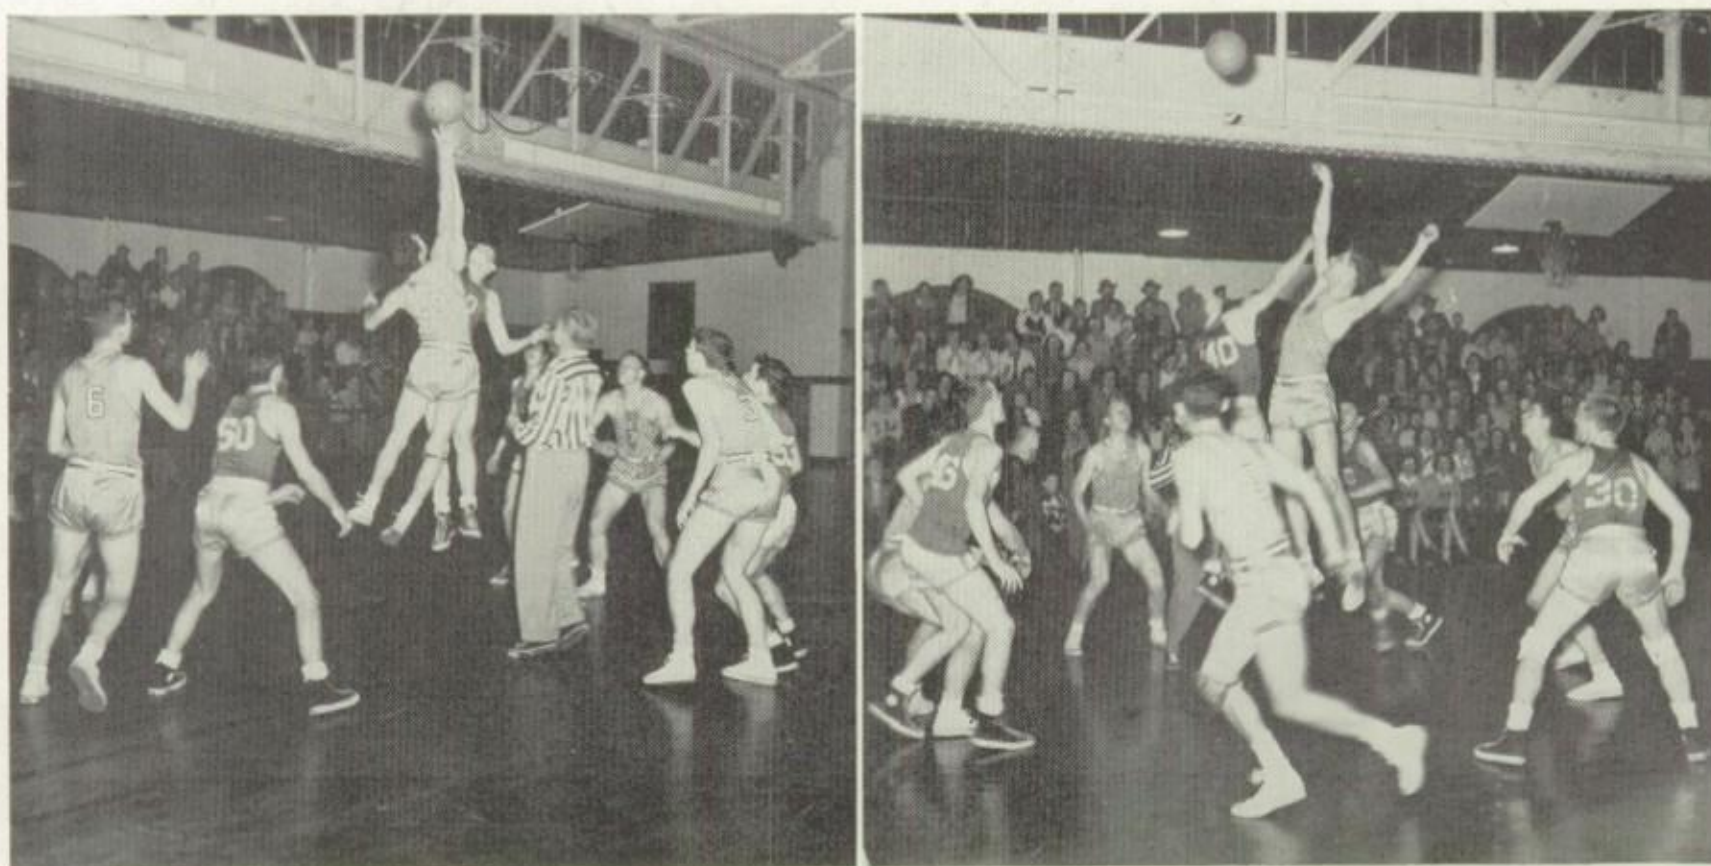

The Trojans went to Lawrence Park and came home with their second victory of the season. Penn High sported a lead throughout the first half, but Lawrence Park came within one point of tying up the game in the third quarter. In the last period, both teams scored ten points, and the game ended with Penn High on the long end of a 40-39 score.

In their first Class A encounter, the Penn High Trojans nipped Grove City 28-27 in a thrilling ball game. The Eagles led until the fourth quarter when the Trojans tied the score at 21-all and then forged ahead. Grove City came back, knotted the count at 26 and again took the lead on a free throw. With 60 seconds remaining, Penn High sank a rebound shot and gained a one-point lead which they held until the end of the game.

Franklin handed Penn High their fourth defeat of the year in a game at Rissell Gymnasium. Taking the lead in the first quarter, the Nurserymen held it throughout the game in spite of attempts by the Trojans to even the count. The Penn High cagers were edged out in a thriller by the Mercer Mustangs despite superb playing by the Greenville five. With the game deadlocked on five occasions, the Trojans doggedly kept after the speedy Mustangs until they turned on the freeze with two minutes remaining in the ball game. Time ran out as the Blue and Gold vainly struggled to regain possession of the ball.

The Penn High Trojans versus the Mercer Mustangs.

In a hard-fought game at Rocky Grove, the Trojans fell behind at the beginning and never managed to overtake the Orioles. Penn High met the Titusville Rockets again and did little to revenge the previous score. The only time the Trojans were even with them was in the first quarter when it was tied at 2-2; from then on in it was an uphill fight. The Sharpsville five handed the Trojans their initial Class A defeat of the year. Though Sharpsville jumped ahead in the first quarter 18-6, the Trojans managed to keep up in the second. They fell behind in the last, however, and the game ended with Greenville on the short end of a 38-54 score.

In their third Class A game Greenville again met with defeat, this time at the hands of the Hickory Hornets. The Mercer game was even the first quarter with the Blue and Gold trailing by only one point. In the second and third periods the Mustangs went wild, notching fifty points while limiting the Trojans to twenty-six. This scoring rampage continued in the fourth quarter with the scoreboard reading 79-47 at the final whistle.

Penn High broke their seven-game losing streak with a victory over the Alumni. The opening quarter was a nip and tuck affair, but the Trojans forged ahead in the second to enjoy a ten-point lead. By the intermission the alumni had narrowed it down to a seven-point lead. The Trojans rolled up an eleven-point margin by the end of the third and the pace never slowed, though Coach Caulfield substituted freely. In their next interscholastic contest the Trojans kept pace with Franklin for three quarters of a hard-fought game, but the Nurserymen scored eighteen points in the fourth to hand Greenville another defeat.

The Greenville five lost a hard-fought game to the Meadville Bulldogs. Meadville outscored the Trojans by three points in the first quarter, but the Trojans came back with new life in the second to take the lead 24-23 at intermission. Meadville tied it up in the third quarter, 26-26, and then went ahead to win 55-47. After getting off to a good start, the Trojans dropped behind and never caught up to Sharpsville in a Class A contest at Rissell Gymnasium.

The Penn High cagers lost to Hickory in a close ball game. The Hornets held a seven-point lead at the end of the first quarter, but the Trojans cut this down to one point by half-time with the Hornets leading 25 to 24. Hickory ran wild in the third quarter, scoring twelve points to Penn High's five. In the fourth period the Trojans started clicking and scored fourteen points, but their rally fell short. In their final game of the year the Penn High basketballers played New Wilmington. The Trojans drew first blood, but the Greyhounds came back to tie the score at 10-all by the end of the first period. New Wilmington outscored the Trojans by seven points in the hard-fought second and third quarters. In the fourth period the Trojans were again outscored as the Greyhounds won the game 47 to 40.

Wrestling Highlights

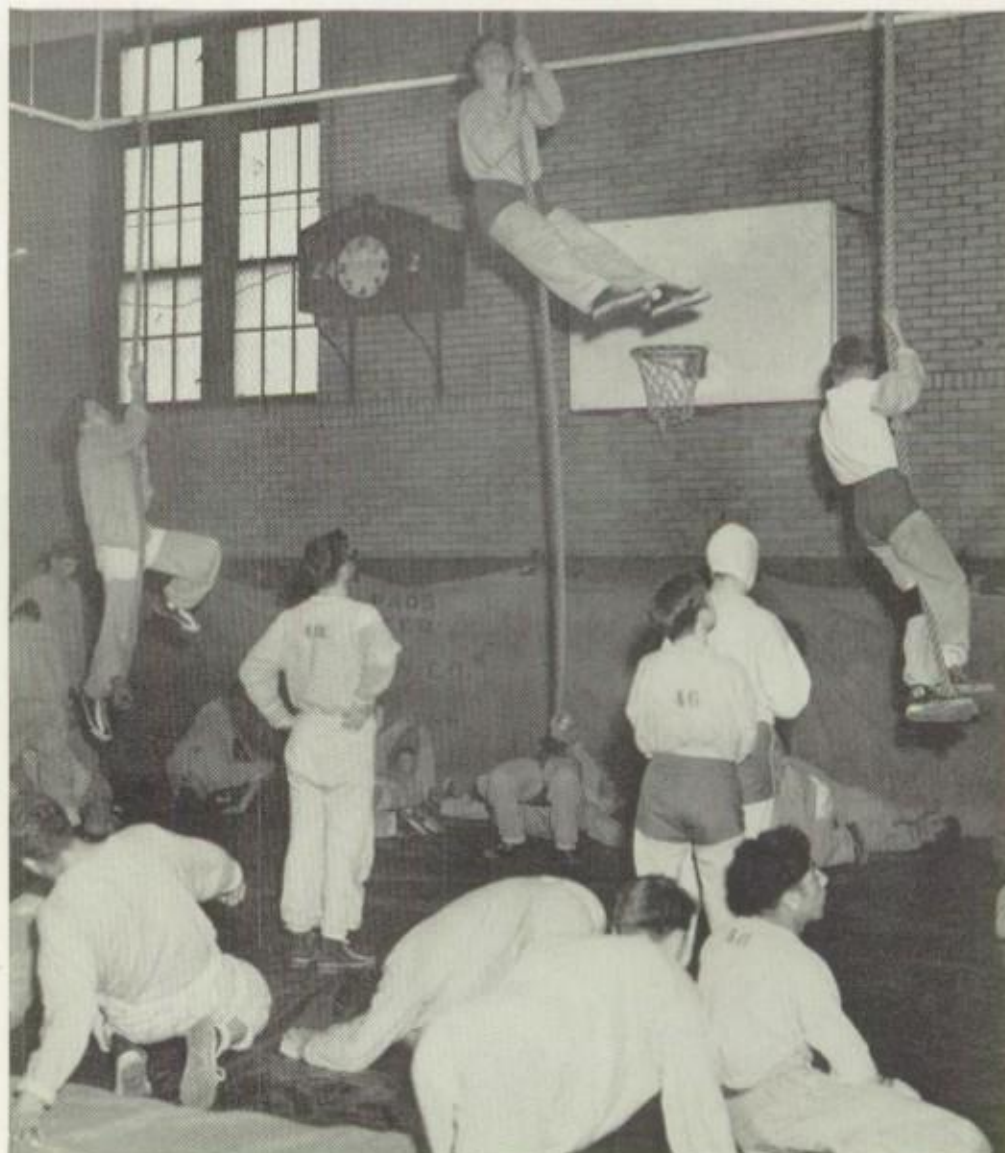

When Mr. Berry called for wrestling candidates in December, about eighty boys turned out. Pre-season training found the candidates working out at noon and after school each day learning holds and escapes, losing weight, and above all getting into the peak of physical condition necessary for wrestling. Each week before a match, eliminations were held to pick the boys who would represent Penn High.

The grunt and groan artists got the season off to a flying start by beating Oil City, 34-11. They won nine out of eleven bouts. Rich Guerrini and Neal Lineman got the first falls of the season for Penn High, while Tom Seiple won by a forfeit. Sherbondy, Conn, Peterson, Roberts, Semroc, and Hyde all won by decision.

The Greenville wrestlers won their twelfth straight match over a two-year period by defeating Erie Strong Vincent, 26-14. Erie took the lead, 3-0, after the first bout, but Guerrini and Sherbondy decisioned their men to put the Trojans in the lead by three points. Strong Vincent tied it up at 6-all, but the decisions by Conn, Peterson, and Bright boosted the Trojans into a lead they never lost. The final two points came when Chuck Semroc's bout ended in a draw. In a tough battle with Erie Academy, the Greenville wrestlers came out on top with a score of 24-12. Dale Conn got the only pin while Seiple, Guerrini, Lineman, Roberts, Peterson, and B. Gerdy won by decision.

The Trojans beat the undefeated Grove City Eagles before a record crowd in the Penn High gym. The Greenville gladiators took the lead when Tom Seiple won by default. Rich Guerrini and Neal Lineman kept up the spirit by decisioning their men, while Dale Conn and Don Roberts remained undefeated by racking up two pins. Bright decisioned his man after which Bill Gerdy chalked up the fastest fall of the evening in 48 seconds of the first period. Heavy-weight Ron Hyde concluded the fourteenth victory by a decision. The matmen then traveled to East Liverpool where they won, 33-3. Lineman, Conn, and Roberts chalked up pins while Guerrini, Chess, Black, B. Gerdy, Bartholomew, and Bright helped the Trojan cause by obtaining decisions.

Climbing ropes is just one of the many exercises the wrestlers use in their after-school practices to get in shape.

Mr. Berry working a hold on Don Roberts while Captain Dale Conn looks on.

This was a familiar scene as our wrestlers won nine straight matches this season, and nineteen straight over a two-year period.

Titusville was handed another defeat by the Greenville wrestling team, who boosted their unblemished slate to eighteen straight. Bill Gerdy and Dick Sherbondy pinned their opponents, while Rich Guerrini, Dale Conn, Don Roberts, Ab Gerdy, Joe Consiglio, and Ron Hyde won by decision. Four more points were added to the score on draws by Tom Seiple and Jim Conn.

The Trojans drew their wrestling season to a successful close by defeating Grove City, 31-9. Seiple, Roberts, and B. Gerdy pinned their men to give Greenville sixteen points. Guerrini, Lineman, Conn, Eakman, and Hyde gave the Trojans fifteen more points on decisions for the 31 count.

Although only eleven boys could wrestle in each match, all fellows who came to practice faithfully were also taken to the out-of-town matches. When the smoke cleared from the last battle, the Trojans had won nine matches while losing none, making a total of nineteen straight victories in the last two seasons for the Penn High wrestling team. Rich Guerrini, Dale Conn, Don Roberts, and Neal Lineman came through the entire season without a defeat.

In the Southern District finals, Penn High wrestlers copped the honors in nine of the eleven weight classes. The winning wrestlers were: 95 lb., Tom Seiple; 103 lb., Rich Guerrini; 120 lb., Neal Lineman; 127 lb., Dale Conn; 133 lb., Don Roberts; 138 lb., Mike Peterson; 154 lb., Bill Gerdy; 165 lb., Bart Bartholomew; and 185 lb., Ron Hyde. These boys then went to the District finals, and seven came through with victories to capture the District 10 Championship for Penn High. This established a new record in District 10—most winners from one school—and surpassed the mark set by our own wrestlers last year. The winners of District titles were: Tom Seiple, Rich Guerrini, Neal Lineman, Dale Conn, Bart Bartholomew, Don Roberts, and Bill Gerdy.

Our seven District Champions were entered in the Regional finals at Clearfield, but Don Roberts was the only one to come out on top. This entitled him to enter the State matches at Johnstown, where he was eliminated in the semi-finals in two overtime periods by the boy who won the state championship.

After four months of indoor sports, there was a good response to Mr. Stewart's call for baseball candidates. Pre-season training was hampered by cold weather and rain, but the team started the season off right by walloping Mercer, 13-7. On the whole, their record was unspectacular, but as Mr. Stewart says, "It matters not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game."

VARSITY "G"

To gain admittance to the V. G., a boy must have earned a letter in one of Penn High's major sports. One of the main activities was the setting up of a fund to provide money for a movie projector to be used in the sports department. The club sold football programs, sponsored a basketball game between the varsity and the faculty, and held a banquet in the spring.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The G. A. A. is an organization consisting of junior and senior girls interested in sports and other athletic activities. Four hundred points, earned by playing basketball, volleyball, and engaging in various other sports, are necessary for membership. The club sponsored a carnival and the annual King and Queen of Sports dance. The senior members were honored with gold basketballs and chains, and they also made a week-end trip to Cook Forest in May.
